

Are Taxpayers Losing $5-600,000 While Hospital Board Piddles?

The Belle Glade Memorial Hospital had an average daily population for the past year of 84 percent.

So, for this fiscal year, the daily average population has been 47.6 with a high of 75 patients.

Patients in the hospital believe that more "room" is needed! The nurses KNOW more beds are needed along with more "core facilities" — delivery rooms, operating rooms, laboratory equipment, and other service facilities.

Doctors report loss of non-emergency patients because of fear of "hall beds."

Professional evaluators say that the population served is adequate a minimum of 75 beds — and this is based on the official census of 1960.

Moreover, actual use of hospital facilities (population) at the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital entitles it to participation in Hill-Burton funds for almost 50% of the cost of a 75-beds — unit.

Hill-Burton funds for the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital have gone wanting while the Board piddles!

Belle Glade's priority in securing these funds is becoming less and less with the addition of other hospital beds in the County, and the application of other counties in the State whose need places them nearer the top of the eligibility list.

A proposed consolidation of the two hospital districts before the last meeting of the legislature fall flat.

In all local legislation (that is legislation affecting only citizens of Palm Beach County) safeguards have been established — and that fact is being used to insure complete public information on any bill affecting a community in the County. These safeguards have been in effect for the past ten years, and include the presentation of the full contents of the bill at legislative clinics which are held at least 30 days prior to the meeting of the legislature.

There was no bill submitted at the clinic, nor was a copy of a proposed bill filed in the County Courthouse Law Library, as provided by the regulations of our County Delegation for the protection of all citizens affected.

Unfortunately, questions, of representation on the proposed board and a proposed site brought out partisan feelings and in a conversation to the exclusion of solid common sense

Private conversations, irresponsibly repeated, with deletions and additions, and the telling of facts around a motive, have lessened the public's understanding of the policy of the Board of the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital.

The Board has stated that "the final decision would rest with the freeholders."

That's provided by the statutes — BUT WHEN?

Two occasions have been passed — the first and second primaries when such a vote could have been held with a minimum of cost!

As long as Belle Glade's application for Hill-Burton funds has not been considered after the consolidated hospital district application was submitted, and likelihood of Belle Glade's maintaining its present priority is lessening with each new application, WHY WAIT?

It is believed by some, who usually know such things, that Hill-Burton funds may be obtained during the next fiscal year's allotment if immediate action is taken to protect the residents of the Southwestern District.

Could it be that we will be given the opportunity to vote ONLY on a combined hospital, at a particular site — OR ELSE?

The Flag Code

(Third in a series of The Flag Code, sponsored by the Lake Okechobee Chapter of Demolay.)

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flag should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill balcony or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When the flag is displayed otherwise than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out, or so suspended that its folds fall as free as though the flag were staffed.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, if it is displayed in the chancel of a church, or on the speaker's platform in a public auditorium, the flag should occupy the position of honor and be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the congregation or audience. Any other flag so displayed in the chancel or on the platform should be placed at the clergyman's or speaker's left as he faces the congregation or audience. But when the flag is displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium elsewhere than in the chancel or on the platform, it shall be placed in the position of honor at the right of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or the monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half staff, should be first hoisted to the peak before it is lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. By "half staff" is meant lowering the flag to one-half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff. Crepe streamers may be affixed to spear heads of flagstaffs in a parade only by order of the President of the United States.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

Safety Rules In Aquatic Sports Given By Red Cross

For the millions of Americans who will take to water sports this summer, the American Red Cross today issued safety tips on how to stay afloat and stay alive.

Memorial Day signals the start of the aquatic sports season here in the Palm Beach County Red Cross, said the safety hints are being released with the hope that they will help keep the drowning rate down.

"Swimming is the most popular single sport in America," he said. "But it is also a sport that takes a dreadful toll in lives every summer. Being safe in, on or near the water is your personal responsibility. Saving lives starts with your own. No one needs to drown."

He said that the following

safety precautions will prevent most drownings:

1. Learn to swim. If you can already swim a little, learn to swim better. The Palm Beach County Red Cross Chapter offers free swimming courses at all levels of ability.
2. Always swim with another person. Make sure someone is near to help you if you get in trouble.
3. Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming.
4. Know the swimming area. Water is deep enough and that there are no submerged rocks or other obstructions.
5. Repeat the water and know your limitations. Don't go beyond safe limits or your ability.

6. Use discretion. Don't swim right after eating, when overheated or overdrunk.

7. Try to stay calm in case of trouble. Assume a case of floating position, keep your hands under the water, and slowly move your hands and feet.

8. Keep safety equipment in your boat. Nonswimmers should wear life vests when riding in a small craft.

9. As a general rule stay with the boat. Most small craft will float, even when filled with water or overturned.

10. Don't overload your boat. Keep at least two-thirds of your boat hull above the water line.

11. Don't "overpower" your boat. A motor two powerful for your boat makes it difficult to control and may cause capsizes or other accidents.

THANK YOU

The kindnesses shown us in the loss of our infant son and grandson were very much appreciated by all of us. We extend our sincere thanks to the many thoughtful friends and to Dr. Hatten and the staff at Everglades Memorial Hospital. Also to Reverend Key for conducting the services. The flowers, cards and other expressions of condolence were comforting.

Uncle Dan from Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

That subscriber what wrote in asking you if the fellers at the country store was Democrat or Republican has got a good question. They is divided Democrat and Republican about half and half. That's the reason they always come up with such sound opinions on world problems.

All the opinions you git from the Congress is either top-sided Democrat or top-sided Republican, depending on which party happens to be running the show.

For instant, Ed Doolie is a Republican and he's been claiming that Harvard is closed down for the duration on account of all their professors has gone to Washington. Saturday night Clem Webster, who is a Democrat, announced he had proof Harvard was still open. He brought out a newspaper clipping telling about a Harvard professor claiming the American people was slow but sure going crazy. This professor used a bunch of figures to prove it, all about the increased percent going to insane asylums and the like.

Ed allowed as how this Harvard feller was probably a Democrat and was a little crazy himself. And that's the way, Mister Editor, we discuss things with and con at the country store till we sift the matters down to the bedrock truth.

Zeke Grubb, who votes both ways, depending on how farm prices is at election time, claimed the professor could be about half right. He said he was reading yesterday where a company that prints comic books decided the farmer folks had a hankering for the finger 8, so they changed the price of their books from 25 cent to 29 cent and sales started booming right away.

Bug Hookum claimed this didn't prove nothing except the wimmen folk was a little off their rocker and he was of the opinion that this situation had been going on for some time. Bug says they ain't no way to fixer the wimmen folks. It's like trying to fatten the un-fatenable and unscut the un-scutable claims Bug.

Personal, I think the Harvard professor is getting a little warm on both sides. For instant, I was reading yesterday where Frank Sinatra owned but a few worth of cuff links. In the same paper I saw where some movie actress had took a bath with a campaign and lit her cigarette with a $10 bill. I think the time is coming, Mister Editor, when I'll be fashionable to be crazy. Any way you look at it, we got some wonderful people in this country. I'm just mighty glad a lot of 'em don't live out this way.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Business Man Asks—

Does Two-Semester School Pattern Fit Our Scientific Business Age?

"Does the nine or ten-month two-semester attendance pattern of American education fit the scientific age?" This question was asked today at an executive of one of America's leading corporations.

Speaking at a civic luncheon sponsored by the Coral Gables Chamber of Commerce in recognition of the scholastic achievement of 50 honor students from Coral Gables High School, R. H. Venn vice president of the Humble Oil and Refining Company's Southeastern Esso Region questioned whether a free society, "in competition one determined to destroy it, can afford to continue a pattern of school attendance which evolved to satisfy our educational needs in our agricultural period?"

Stressing the marked rise of cooperation between businessmen and educators in the last 10 years, Mr. Venn called for "some controlled experiment... to determine whether the 9 months school year exists because like Topsy 'it just grew' or because it really is the optimum in terms of educator's goals and society's needs."

Citing such experimentation as only one of hundreds of ways in which educators and businessmen "should become more deeply involved in collaborative projects," Mr. Venn said that business has a responsibility to support the educators continuing efforts to better adjust the educational process to meet the current needs of business and other segments of society.

"Businessmen must invite the educator into the business world he said, 'not to tour plants or to 'explain' business,' but to 'develop ideas and means of working jointly on the problem of increasing the adaptation of the educational process and individual matter to these needs.'"

In commenting on the American system of modern business, Mr. Venn noted "several areas in which graduates are less than adequately prepared for real participation on the national life."

Among these he listed economics, general science reading and communications skills, political and governmental structure and "a broad base of moral and ethical values."

"It is in these areas," he said, "that with some curricular modification, education, and the product it sends to the business world, could make even greater contributions to business, to the

George Young Plans To Attend Livestock Marketing Congress

The annual Livestock Marketing Congress, scheduled for June 21-24, Rapid City, S. Dak. has currently taken another step in planning, as a tentative program has been released from the Livestock Auction Markets Association offices in Kansas City, Missouri. The forthcoming Congress will mark the fifth successive national forum of this type, a review on trends and developments in the livestock marketing industry. This event is for everyone, and anyone who has an interest in livestock from the producer to the consumer. Manager George Young of the Glades Livestock Market, Belle Glade Plans to attend.

The Livestock Marketing Congress includes two conventions, those of the Livestock Auction Markets Association and the National Livestock Dealers Association. While staging its program around these two conventions, the Congress is unique in that it encompasses the wide interests of the entire livestock industry and related organizations, while highlighting current trends and developments of livestock marketing. Among the guest speakers to appear at the Livestock Marketing Congress are these men: Honorable Archie Gubrud, the Governor of South Dakota; Lee Kolmer, Extension Economist, Iowa State University; Robert H. Meats, Livestock Statistics Branch, Statistical Reporting Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Paul Zillman, American Meat Institute; B. M. Bevis, National Livestock Exchange; R. F. McIntosh, Executive Vice President, Committee on State Sovereignty Inc., Washington, D. C. In addition to these persons and others, the program agenda will also include representation of the American National Cattlemen's Association and the National Livestock Feeders Association.

Industry Forums
Two industry forums are planned for the Congress program, one on "Trends in Livestock Marketing" and the other, "Developments in Livestock Market Services." Each forum will be made up of a panel of key speakers, all who are leaders in their respective fields, and officials of the livestock markets industry.

Livestock Industry Day
Each year, one day of the Congress is named "Livestock Industry Day." Friday, June 22, has been designated for this special day at the forthcoming Congress. In brief, Livestock Industry Day features key speakers from all segments of the livestock industry, offering a wide variety of interests and topics.

Events for Ladies and Marketers
Special events have been planned for ladies attending the Livestock Marketing Congress and for the Marketers, who are the youth represented. In addition to a ladies' brunch on Friday and a luncheon the following day, excursions for the younger set have been scheduled to Story Book Island and a Covered Wagon Guest Ranch. The South Dakota Livestock Association will host the Congress, with headquarters to be established at the Sheraton-Johnson Hotel in Rapid City. The South Dakota Association, with the help and cooperation of many other state livestock organizations, has been striving to plan the utmost in entertainment for everyone attending this year's Congress. Now...Test drive the NEW 'JEEP' TORNADO-OHC ENGINE

You'll be amazed at its performance!

BIRTH OF A CHAMPION! Today, after years of research, development and testing, Willys Motors proudly presents the 'Jeep' Tornado-OHC—America's first overhead camshaft engine designed for commercial vehicles.

WHAT IS AN OHC ENGINE? In a pushrod engine the valves are on top—the camshaft, which operates them, is at the bottom. It's an awkward situation like playing the piano sitting on the floor—you have to stretch up and over to hit the keys. Giving the Tornado-OHC engine overhead cams—which is what the initials OHC stand for—is like giving the pianist a chair. You get much better performance.

LOADED OHC VEHICLE PULLS LIKE IT'S EMPTY! The Tornado-OHC engine is the strongest, most economical 'Jeep' engine ever...gives you 33% more horsepower yet it cuts gasoline consumption up to 25%. And still more important it produces very high torque at very low engine speeds. So it makes light work of starting off, accelerating and climbing hills with heavy loads.

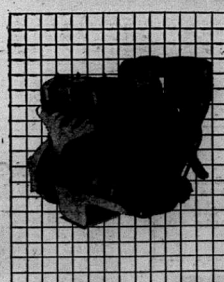

SIMPLER DESIGN MEANS LESS MAINTENANCE! The Tornado-OHC has 36 fewer moving parts than a conventional pushrod 6-cylinder engine. So it runs more smoothly, keeps its tune longer, needs adjusting less often.

And most of the parts that need servicing are at the top of the engine—so maintenance is easy, quick and inexpensive.

LONG LIFE! IT'S ALMOST INDESTRUCTIBLE! Our engineers tried every means possible to destroy the prototype Tornado-OHC engine—but they came through the severest service tests without flinching. And because Tornado-OHC produces more power with less effort it lasts much longer than a conventional engine. It's almost indestructible!

YOU'LL BE SURPRISED HOW MANY GAS STATIONS YOU PASS BY! For the heavy loads it hauls your Tornado-OHC engine uses surprisingly little fuel. And it sings happily along on standard grade gas. Spheroidal (dome-shaped) combustion chambers and centrally-placed spark plugs make it thermally very efficient—that is, it squeezes a lot of energy out of quite a small amount of fuel. And the Tornado-OHC engine has positive crankcase ventilation to get rid of corrosive exhaust-forming gases.

COME IN AND TEST DRIVE A TORNADO-OHC ENGINE! Now available in 'Jeep' Pick-ups, 4-wheel drive Utility Wagons, 2 WD Station Wagons and Panel Deliveries. But be warned...with its exciting performance you'll probably want to take it home with you. You'll be unhappy with anything else—except another OHC 'Jeep' vehicle.
